Daylight Bomb Raid On Poland And East Prussia

U. S. Bombers In Longest
Flight Of War Make Sur-

MOST HAZARDOUS AIR RAID OF WAR

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Oct. 9.—American heavy bombers, carrying out their longest flight of the war, blasted occupied Poland and East Prussia by daylight today for the first time in this war.

The assault came on the heels of a smashing RAF night attack which struck furiously at vital industrial centers within the Reich itself as the newest Allied aerial offensive gained momentum with each passing hour.

Smashing through Adolf Hitler's vaunted ground and sky defenses covering the greater portion of Axis-held Europe, the big American bombers flew out of their British bases to smash at "important targets" in Pomerania, Poland and East Prussia.

Follow Night Attacks
The raids, carried out only a few hours after British night bombers had battered Hanover, Berlin, Bremen and targets in the Ruhr, were announced in a terse wireless message issued at headquarters of the European theater of operations.

The official statement declared:
"Strong formations of United States heavy bombers attacked important targets in Pomerania, Poland and East Prussia today."

The flight, one of the greatest and presumably one of the most hazardous yet undertaken by the big bombers, carried them deep into Hitler's European fortress only 24 hours after giant B-17's had smashed at the submarine and airplane centers of Bremen and near-by Vegesack. From London to the nearest point on the Polish frontier is approximately 700 miles and from the British capital to either Warsaw or Koenigsberg is some 900 miles or more.

While the specific targets of the attacks were not named immediatly, observers pointed out that if the big bombers flew to Koenigsberg they set a new record for daylight attacks by traveling 1,800 miles round-trip.

The previous mark was set by RAF raiders July 11, 1942, when eight Lancaster bombers flew 1,750 miles round-trip to attack Nazi submarine yards at Danzig.
The German radio, in an overseas transmission, said that American planes stage "another daylight raid" on the Baltic coast at noon.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Many Pennsylvanians faced the prospect today of a Yuletide without the traditional Christmas tree.
Lynn R. Emerick, acting chief of the State Bureau of Forests, at Harrington, said trees used for Christmas decorations will be scarce this year and those obtainable will be higher-priced than last year.

Quite a number of citizens have been perplexed by the construction of a small coop that looks something like a bird house on Norwood avenue, near Highland. The air raid sirens are enclosed in the coop, perched on poles. Pa Newscob discovered the siren was recently erected because the north hill outer area had difficulty in hearing the sirens further away.

Looks like even the birds are confused in these hectic war times. Pa Newscob noted quite a large flock of small birds on the wing this morning, and of all things, they were headed due north. Maybe we are not going to have any winter?

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Berlin, Bremen, Hanover and targets in the industrial Ruhr valley were blasted by Royal Air Force night bombers in the mounting battle of Germany, the air ministry announced today.

The raids marked the second the Reich were blasted by the R. A. F. and followed only a short time after a blistering twin assault on Bremen and near-by Vegesack by American flying

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA,

action in the Southwest Pacific have taken to the air against the Japanese, Aneta, the Netherlands News Agency reported today.

Joining up with a Netherlands-manned Mitchell medium bomber unit based in Northwest Australia which has carried the air war into enemy-held territory for the past nine months, the airmen trained in the United States are hitting at Japanese bases from Kupang on

Crash of a large twin-engine Marine Corps bomber was announced today by the Cherry Point Marine Base.

The plane crashed yesterday near into flames as it struck the ground.

DRUM MAJOR KNOCKS SELF OUT WITH BATON

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Oct.

but finally it has happened.
A drum major knocked himself out with his whirling baton.
Junior Byers was strutting his stuff at the head of the New Philadelphia high school band last night before the game with East Liverpool when—wham!—the gilded staff struck Junior and Junior struck the ground as hard as if he had been

But drum majors, like football covered his wind and at halftime outdid himself in maneuvering the

ALLIED HEADQUAR-

Oct. 9.—Patrols of the Fifth Army in Italy today smashed their way across the swollen Volturno river to press the Allied drive on Rome.

Headquarters of Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that units on the left wing of the front manned by the Fifth Army had effected the crossing.

Advances of two to three miles by both the Fifth Army and the Eighth Army at the eastern end of the trans-peninsular battle line were reported.

In one battle in the Termoli area
Eighth Army armored forces knocked out 15 of a force of 30 German tanks.

Caserta Occupied Caserta, seven miles southeast of captured Capua, was occupied by the Fifth Army.

The assaults by bold patrols of Clark's left wing were made to test

New Air Raids In Indo-China

Assaults On Enemy Shipping Off China Coast
Also Made By Fliers

CHUNGKING, Oct. 9.—(INS)— Smashing raids against Japanese installations in French Indo-China and assaults on enemy shipping off the China coast were announced today at 14th Air Force headquarters.

Commenting on the lack of opposition offered by the Nipponese to these latest American assaults
Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault, air force commander, said bluntly:

"The Japanese fighter force has been pretty well shot up in northern Indo-China. The pilots apparently have lost the courage they previously displayed."

A communique issued by Lieut.-
Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of American forces in this theater, revealed that Liberator bombers operating behind a screen of Lightning and Warhawk fighters, attacked the port of Haiphong Thursday for the second time within a week. A big cement plant was bombed "with excellent results" and two zeros accounted for—one definitely shot down and a second probably destroyed.

Five Alarm Fire In New York City

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(INS)—A routine investigation by FBI and fire department agents has discounted sabotage today as the cause of New York's first five-alarm fire since the burning of the former luxury liner Normandie in February, 1942.

Firemen from 31 companies battled for almost two hours to control a waterfront warehouse of the International Diesel Electric company, Long Island City. An estimated $500,000 worth of electrical equipment was destroyed.

Water was poured on the flames from street hoses, two fire boats and two fire towers. The blaze was brought under control just as it appeared that firemen would no longer be able to remain within working distance.

Seven firemen were slightly injured.
Assistant Fire Chief John J. Mc-Carthy said cause of the blaze was not definitely determined. However he expressed belief that sparks from fires made by small boys in an adjoining play space ignited the building's tar roof.

TWO ARRESTED IN MERCER TRIPLE SLAYING; ONE OF MURDER VICTIMS

William A. Morrell, 20, left above, and Janice Graham, 20, center, were apprehended in Chardon, O., in connection with the slaying of three persons on the dairy farm of Everett Wilson, near Mercer, Pa. The youth and the girl, both employed on the farm, were missing after the crime, and were arrested last night.

Of McKibben

LOCKLEY REPORTS SHORTAGE NOW $31,000

Bernard N. Hanlon, in city council session today, was named to fill the post of city treasurer for the unexpired term of C. C. McKibben.

Director Joseph D. Alexander presented the resolution. It was seconded by Director D. O. Davies and was unanimously adopted. A resolution presented by Director Albert Hoyland and also adopted unanimously notified the school board of council's action. Hanlon will assume his new office as soon as he provides bond.

Shortage Larger

He takes the place of McKibben who has pleaded nolle contendere to a charge of embezzling city funds. According to S. L. Lockley, city controller, who is auditing Mc-Kibben's accounts the reported shortage now is slightly more than $31,000. Actually the city will not lose any money because McKibben was bonded for $100,000.

Lockley stated that the funds of the city in local banks are all right.
McKibben, who resigned as city treasurer, reportedly collected some taxes but failed to credit the payments.

W. E. Rilly and J. R. DeArment, representatives of the Eagle Indemnity Company, which bonded McKibben arrived here Friday after-company is ready to fulfill all the obligations called for by the bond and added that the company is

Two Are Drowned, Child Is Rescued

WOODBURY, N. J., Oct. 9.—(INS)—
Two young boys today had rescued four-year-old Donald Stowers from Woodbury creek but were unable to save the child's mother and 11-year-old sister.

The victims were Mrs. Mary Stowers, 30, wife of a machinist at the Philadelphia navy yard, and her daughter Anna, Donald was rushing to a nearby hospital, where physicians held slight hope for his recovery.

The family lived in an 85-foot cabin cruiser, moored in Woodbury creek. The mother and two children set out for a ride in a row boat shortly before dark and the row boat upset.

Two Woodbury boys, Wilbur Balley, 13, and Frank Karkoff, 11, who were playing on a raft nearby, heard screams and pulled to the oysturned boat. Only Donald's body was in sight. They took him to shore and notified police, who recovered the other bodies.

Police Say Youth Admits Two Of Mercer Murders

Farm Hand And Girl Sought

YOUTH SAYS GIRL TIED UP BY HIM (BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
MERCER, Pa., Oct. 9.—
William Morrell, 19-year-old parolee arrested with a girl companion at Chardon, O.,
today admitted to Pennsylvania state police the shotgun slayings of two persons on the Everett Wilson farm, near Mercer, but denied strangling the wealthy dairy farmer's wife.

A grudge against a fellow farm hand led to the triple slaying Morrell admitted today when he and his blonde farm girl companion, Janice Graham, also 19, were returned from Ohio.

Investigators Not Satisfied
But investigators said they were not satisfied with the story of the shooting of Mrs. Katherine Wilson, 78, mother of the farm owner, and Robert McKay, 75, another farm hand. The body of Mrs. Helen Wilson, 48, the wife, was found in the barn.

Morrell told police the hired girl on the farm had no part in the slayings, but that she was tied up in an automobile when he entered the farm house to shoot McKay and Mrs. Wilson with a shotgun.
He denied strangling Mrs. Helen

Repeated Nazi Counter-At- tacks On West Bank Of Dnieper Thrown Back

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—Soviet armies surged steadily forward today along the vast Russian front and beat down repeated Nazi counter-attacks to widen newly-won bridgeheads on the west bank of the strategic Dnieper river.

The Soviet high command reported more than 6,000 Germans were slain in battle actions extending from the middle reaches of the central front to the Taman peninsula in the West Caucasus.

Nearing Latvian Border
(An unsubstantiated report from Stockholm said that the spearhead of the Russian army driving westward from the Velikiye Luki area was now within 10 miles of the former Latvian border.)

Heaviest fighting was reported around the Red army bridgeheads on the Dnieper river, where the Germans battled furiously to stem the mounting threat against their base at Kiev, capital of the Ukraine.

The Russians beat back the enemy counter-thrusts and continued to enlarge their new operational bases, an official communique said.
German units still left in the northern part of the Taman peninsula were being mopped up rapidly and the Russian forces clearing the remnants of the enemy from the West Caucasus captured six Nazi strongpoints.

Tin Can Salvage Drive Chairman Is Named For Year

Glenn McCracken, a principal of the New Castle school system, has been named as the chairman of tin can salvage for New Castle.
The appointment was made by Dr.
Clyde C. Green, chief of the War
Services for Lawrence county.

Within a few days a court chairman will be appointed and the tin can collection program will be under way. Already the youngsters of the schools in the city and county have gathered a huge load of tin cans. The same plan followed last winter will be used again this

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—(INS)—
The governor's office confirmed today the appointment of Ray S.
Smoek, of Meadville, as assistant secretary of highways, effective Nov.
1.

Smoek had announced his appointment late yesterday at Meadville. He will fill the post vacated by Charles H. Buckius who recently was appointed chief engineer. His salary was not disclosed but Buckius received $7,000 annually.

Oh thank you Mister Coal Man for the tip you handed me, you said when winter got around and winds were full and free, that coal would be a scarcity and hard to get at all, and if I wanted coal this year I'd better pay a call. I paid the call and paid the bill, the coal is in the bin, and when I read of shortages I can't suppress a grin.
For we were lucky and we filled the cellar with the stuff, it's seventy-one today and warm and that is quite enough.

Board Has Long Tedious Job—No Changes In Unofficial Results

DEMOCRATIC PARTY NOMINEES NAMED

Lawrence county's official recount of the vote of the primary elections was returned today by the recount board after three weeks of tedious work, counting hundreds of single votes for candidates whose names did not appear upon the ballot, and opening new ballot boxes to correct errors that have been opened in many years.

The board was composed of Wesley Davy as chairman, Charles Piper, Byers, Mrs. Ann Hagan and Alice Gaffney. They started work on Friday, September 17, and have now completed their job. Today was the last day in which military ballots could be received and counted and if any had been received they would have had to bear a postmark on or before September 14.

The full recount follows with the exception of the scattered votes for candidates. The totals below include only the city and county wide offices.

ADMITS TWO OF MERCER MURDERS

Wilson, police said, although he admitted leaving her bound and gagged in the barn while he entered the house.

"She was still breathing when I left," police quoted him as saying.

Arrested In Ohio

Morell and Miss Graham were arrested in an Ohio farm house last night where they had posed as man and wife, police said, and persuaded the farm owner to give them work. Their pictures in a newspaper led to their capture.

"Morell had trouble with McKay," police reported. "McKay bossed him around and he resented it. They had an argument about it and the kid carried a grudge."

"The kid was trying to get some heifers in the barn," the state police version continued, "he asked the girl, Janice, to help him. They were down in the barn for 15 minutes."

"There was a buzzer system between the house and the barn, Mrs. (Helen) Wilson pushed the buzzer. The boy didn't answer it and knowing the girl was there with him, Mrs. Wilson went to investigate."

Argument Ensues

State police said there was an argument between Mrs. Wilson and Morell in the barn and that Morell bound and gagged her. When her body was found, investigators reported, a rope had been twisted around her neck.

Morell said he tied Janice up in McKay's automobile after he left Mrs. Wilson in the barn. State police continued. "Then he went into the house and shot the older Mrs. Wilson and McKay."

Authorities said Morell told them he and the girl started to make their escape in McKay's car and that after they had been driving a while, he untied Miss Graham. McKay's car was wrecked one mile from Sandy Lake and after resting, Morell went into the town and stole another car.

"They ran out of gasoline and started to hitchhike," the police version continued. "That's when they were picked up by Charles Cobb near Orwell, O."

Clue From Newspaper

Cobb, police explained, expected to give the couple a job on his farm. In the evening, however, after Cobb and his wife had gone to a movie, Cobb's son, William, read about the triple murders in a newspaper and after Morell and the girl had gone to bed called the sheriff.

Wilson, owner of the prosperous dairy farm where the murders were committed, was fishing in Canada when notified of the crimes.

The Graham girl had been staying at the Wilson farm since last Monday when she went there to help with the work during Wilson's absence. She also had worked at the farm for a period last summer, but left shortly after Morell came there as a parolee from the Mercer county jail to work as a farm hand.

The girl's father told police he disapproved of Morell having dates with Janice and that he believed they had not been seeing each other. The victims' bodies were found Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Helen Minner, 27, a neighbor, who did clerical work for Wilson.

The American warcraft. The second destroyer sunk went down from a torpedo hit.

Desperate Evacuation Effort

The Jap ships were engaged in a last desperate attempt to save the remainder of their forces on Vella Lavella which was occupied several weeks ago by Yank troops.

This evacuation attempt, along with efforts of the enemy to remove his forces from Kolombangara Island to the south, indicated that the Japs had abandoned all hope of continuing a stand in the central Solomons. Numerous troop-laden barges attempting to put out from Kolombangara, which was outflanked in the American occupation of Vella Lavella following seizure of New Georgia, have been sunk by Allied action.

Loss of Vella Lavella and Kolombangara will leave the Japs with the island of Bougainville in the northern Solomons as their sole remaining stronghold in that group of islands.

Australian jungle troops meanwhile, while scoring further advances in ground action in New Guinea, striking to within 45 miles of the enemy base of Madang on the north coast by capturing Kesawai.

Allied aircraft at the same time carried out raids against the Nipponese, extending westward from the Solomons area to the occupied Netherlands East Indies.

ring rushed his crack third panzer-grenadier division into the line to hold the ground at all costs.

Assisting the Eighth Army advance, medium bombers of the northwest African forces attacked transport and communication lines near Palata, southwest of Termini. Motor vehicles and bridges in the area were blasted.

Other aircraft of the command attacked enemy air installations near Athens in Greece and on the Nazi-held Aegean Island of Crete. During the attack, other operations seven Nazi planes were destroyed, but no Allied aircraft were missing from these raids.

See Nazi Retreat

A hasty retreat to the north banks of the river from Capua eastward to Benevento was seen as the only choice of Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring if his remnant units below the Volturno and Calore are to escape annihilation.

The German positions between Capua and Benevento were threatened with encirclement as a result of the swift march to the south bank of the Volturno by the Fifth Army along a 16 mile front from the west coast of Italy eastward to Capua. The Nazis were menaced in the Benevento sector by the right wing of American Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's army.

Sharp clashes occurred wherever the Fifth Army dashed across the river as the Germans strove desperately to forestall a major crossing.

The third panzer division, one of Hitler's best armored units, was identified as one of seven enemy divisions battling on the coastal flank.

Heavy Rains Continue

Heavy rains which caused streams to overflow their banks continued to handicap both the Eighth and Fifth armies. But the Allies sloshed ahead, mopping up enemy nests between Capua and Benevento, consolidating their positions south of the Volturno by capture of Caserta, which is an important road junction as well as an armament center.

Along Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's center, gains of from two to three miles were achieved. Numerous German counterattacks in the Termini region failed. A captured document revealed the Germans had been given orders to take Termini at all costs and throw the Fifth Army back into the sea.

Gen. Clark reached the Volturno on the west in a nine-mile northward advance which resulted in occupation of historic Capua and Grazzanise and Volturmo to the west.

It was expected that any attempt to cross the rain-swollen Volturno in force would await a thorough mopping up of the German units still south of the stream east of Capua.

Front dispatches reported that the Germans were taking advantage of the muddy conditions all along the battlefield to delay the Allied advance as much as possible and in some instances, particularly on the Eighth Army front in the Termini region, were launching sharp counterattacks.

(The London radio, according to CBS, broadcast a report that "Allied and German guns are hammering at each other across the 150 yards of the Volturmo river."

The automotive council for war production revealed recently that automotive employees are the highest paid industrial workers in the United States.

The average automotive employee receives a weekly paycheck of $58.47, the council said, adding that the average wage has gone up nearly 60 per cent since the outbreak of World War II four years ago.

The council pointed out, however, that most of the pay increase has resulted from a longer working week, accompanied by premium and overtime payments.

Allied Food Ship Reaches Naples

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, Oct. 8 (Delayed)—The situation in Naples has been "greatly improved" by the arrival of the first Allied food ship in the West Coast Italian port looted by the Nazis before they gave up the city, the lieutenant colonel in charge of the Allied military government declared today.

The vessel brought in a week's supply of flour for the populace of almost 1,000,000 along with medical supplies and milk for hospitals.

Major utilities are expected to be restored before the end of the week. The Allied officer said that some of the water supply already has been restored. Yesterday 30,000 extra gallons were made available and today each person was allowed three liters.

It is expected that by Sunday 60 per cent of the city's electrical output will be restored.

SOVIET ARMIES SURGE FORWARD ON VAST FRONT

line advances of three to six miles were won in the vastest region. Capture of 150 localities in this area was announced.

In the vicinity of Nevel 60 additional towns were seized from the enemy.

At the approaches to Nevel, the high command announced, some 3,000 German officers and men were slain and at least 600 were taken prisoner.

"The enemy is trying with all his means to stem the advance of our troops, but is unsuccessful," the communique said.

On one sector of the Dnieper river front the Germans lost 2,000 men when they sent large forces of infantry supported by tanks into an assault to crush the Soviet operational base. Another counter-attack on a different sector was put down after 800 Germans were killed.

A total of 32 German airplanes were brought down in dogfights over the Dnieper river battle area.

In the Nevel battle sector 36 other German planes were brought down in combat or by anti-aircraft fire.

Claim Evacuation

New York, Oct. 9.—The last remaining German units in the West Caucasus of Russia have been evacuated from the Taman Peninsula to the Crimea, the Nazi agency DNB reported today.

The Germans said in a broadcast dispatch reported by the PCC that the last of the Nazi troops were removed last night under heavy attack by Russian aircraft and strong pressure by Soviet ground forces.

The evacuation, said the Nazis, began "several weeks ago when the disengaging movements on the Mius and Donets front made it necessary to take back German and Rumanian units on the southern flank."

ury will open within the next few days.

City Controller Lockley stated that some people have pay checks issued to city employees. He said they should not feel worried because they are safe but it was his duty to not allow local banks to disburse any city funds until the McKibben affair was unraveled.

New Castle school board members will meet for a brief period tonight to discuss means of getting school checks signed in order to have the teachers paid. Due to the resignation of City Treasurer C. C. McKibben checks cannot be signed until some new authority is given.

RAIDERS BLAST BREMEN, BERLIN AND HANOVER

from the daylight assault by the United States Eighth Air Force.

Berlin Attacked

Berlin and objectives in the Ruhr were tackled by speedy Mosquito bombers.

Other aircraft of the bomber command simultaneously laid mines in German-controlled waters.

The large-scale operations cost the R. A. F. 31 bombers.

"Aircraft of the bomber command were over Germany last night in great strength," the air ministry communique said.

"Harover was the main objective. The weather was good and first reports show the attack was concentrated."

"A small force of bombers attacked Bremen."

"Mosquitos were over Berlin and the Ruhr."

Nazis Over Britain

In the feeble retaliation for the blistering assaults on the Reich by Allied craft, Nazi planes returned over England for the second straight night and dropped bombs along the Thames river estuary. Some damage and casualties were reported.

A few German aircraft flew over parts of Kent last night and two reached the London outskirts, an air ministry communique said.

Bombs were dropped at several points but there was little damage and only a small number of people were killed.

Two Nazi planes were destroyed.

The German foray gave London its 667th alert of the war but no explosives were dropped on the capital. Aircraft were heard over London district but fled immediately when a heavy burst of anti-aircraft fire was shot into the sky.

Knock Out 142 Nazi Planes

One of the greatest aerial victories of the war was won by the United States Eighth Air Force in its daylight attack yesterday against the Nazi port of Bremen and the nearby submarine building center of Vegesack.

Eighth Air Force headquarters announced that the flying fortresses, Liberators, and escorting Thunderbolt fighters knocked 142 German fighters out of the sky in grueling battles over the target area.

Thirty American bombers and three fighters were lost.

The chief objectives of the American attack on Bremen include the Weser Aircraft factory which produces Stuka dive-bombers and the Deschimag shipbuilding yards.

"Strong formations of fortresses and Liberators attacked an aircraft factory, port facilities and submarine installations at Vegesack," the communique from Eighth Air Force headquarters said.

"Thunderbolts furnished support and cover for the forts."

"Strong enemy opposition was encountered by our heavy bombers and 130 fighters were destroyed by them. Thunderbolts destroyed 12."

The American raids on northwest Germany followed a triple assault by the RAF the previous night on Stuttgart, Friedrichshafen, and Munich in southern Germany.

All these years we've tried to remember to pronounce it lee-zure, and now a college professor on "Books and Men" says lay-zure.

Meanwhile, strong squadrons of RAF fighters droned out over the straits of Dover in the direction of the French coast, followed later in the afternoon by other formations which were believed to include heavy bombers. Residents of the Folkstone area heard the later formations passing overhead in the direction of the continent.

Some people seem braver than others because they have only the facts to face, while the others face facts plus imagination.

NO BLACKOUTS ON THE PRODUCTION LINE

Blackouts, due to poor vision, are inexcusable. The need for materials that are to spell VICTORY is too urgent to permit slowdowns or stops on the production program. Eyes that blur, tire easily, and cause spoilage, result in the loss of precious man hours. They should be corrected without delay.

CANTEEN GROUP ENDS WEEK AT U.S.O. CENTER

Flying Squadron of the Red Cross has just finished another week at the USO center, having served 650 service men over the past week-end. As the weeks go on the canteen becomes more popular, canteen workers report, so much so that plans are being made to move the canteen to the first floor of the center.

Hot sandwiches and coffee are served without charge, leaving soft drinks as the only thing service men have to pay for at the canteen.

Last week-end there were not enough home-made cakes and cookies to supply the demand. On an ordinary week-end at least 12 cakes and 12 dozen cookies are needed, canteen workers estimate. Home baked cakes and cookies are special favorites with canteen visitors.

Announcement is made today of the marriage of Miss Eva Ellen Beckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beckert, of R. D. 1, and William Edgar Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Taylor, of R. D. 2, Oakwood avenue, on October 5 at the First Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock in the morning in the church parlors by Dr. John J. McIlvaine. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fowler attended the couple.

The bride wore a dress of calamine blue with a corsage of yellow roses.

After a short wedding trip to Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are at home temporarily on the Youngstown road. He is an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad. She is employed at the Union bus terminal.

RAIDER WORKING IN U. S.

THE PEOPLE of the United States have again been warned that suicide air raids by the Axis may still be expected. In the meantime another raider, fire, is working daily in our midst destroying millions of dollars worth of vital property.

Whether a factory or a home is burned or bombed, the loss is the same. With warehouses now full of irreplaceable farm crops, and with vital war materials stored throughout the country, a warning should go out for every citizen to be doubly alert to fire hazards.

All over the nation, possibility of fire has been increased by housing developments of a flammable character, by war industries operating in buildings never intended to house them, by storage of irreplaceable materials in warehouses where grass or trash fires constantly menace them, and by inadequate or inaccessible water supplies in areas never prepared for storage or production purposes. These are but a few of the fire risks common to every war congested area today. They are potential hazards as deadly as any bombing raid.

There is little excuse for the existence of such fire hazards. They are generally controllable through painstaking inspections. Every individual in every plant and home should be enlisted to help with such inspection and fire prevention work, just as they are enlisted to sell war bonds. It is as important to prevent a fire which destroys property or goods which the nation buys with the money from war bonds, as it is to sell the bonds. It may not be as spectacular to prevent fires as it is to fight them, but it certainly is a more effective means of conserving immediately needed resources.

CLEAN OWN HOUSE FIRST

The most popular political pastime today is planning a new post-war world.

But before the United States can take any great part in such a world, it will have to set its own house in order.

Large, continuing production is the only basis for financing our government and maintaining adequate living standards and a feeling of personal security. In the United States, under a private enterprise system, living standards reached a world peak and provided real independence and security for a greater population than in other countries.

So, while planning the postwar world, our planners might as well get down to earth and consider practical plans for encouraging expansion of private enterprise at home.

Only a policy of moderate taxation after the war will encourage individual initiative. Exorbitant taxes add to the price of goods, depress employment and deter investment and risk taking.

"Moderate business taxes," says Harley L. Lutz, professor of public finance, Princeton University, in the Tax Review, "that would release the full driving power of production at adequate wages and profits, mean that as soon as the war is over the excess profits tax and the surtax should be repealed, the normal rate should be reduced to some point within the range applied from 1918 to 1932. In no case should the rate exceed 20 per cent."

WAR POWER OF NAZIS

While recognizing the dangers of excessive confidence and the necessity of taking a sternly realistic view of the difficulties that lie ahead, the American people hardly can be expected to accept without question the statement by Maj. Gen. George V. Strong, chief of Army intelligence, that the German army and air force are stronger now than when Poland was attacked four years ago.

General Strong has gone rather far out on a limb in his efforts to promote a grim attitude by the public toward the uncertain future. In so doing he has weakened his case by creating the impression that he is indulging in fantasy.

If General Strong's conclusions were sound, the German raids on England would not have been ended and Allied aircraft would not now be destroying city after city in Germany. If the German army were now a stronger force than it was in 1939, it would not have been driven out of North Africa and it would not now be in retreat in Italy.

And, above all, the German army, if it retained its old strength, would not now be giving up city after city, town after town and mile after mile of territory in Russia. Until very recently the German high command gave confident assurance that regardless of what else might happen the army in Russia could always make a stand along the line of the Dnieper.

This would be the winter line, according to announcements, to be held until next spring, when the final offensive would be initiated to crush the Soviet armies and drive Russia out of the war. But now Smolensk has fallen, and Kiev, which anchors a great section of the defense line, is menaced and the hold of the Nazi armies on their new line is extremely tenuous. In fact, there is every prospect that the Germans will be in renewed flight before the snow falls.

Lieutenant General McNarney, deputy chief of staff, has told a Congressional committee that the Germans have abandoned hope of victory and now seeking nothing more favorable than a stalemate, leading to a negotiated peace. This would not be so if German military strength were unimpaired.

The German army is still a formidable fighting force and it is no doubt true, as Prime Minister Churchill has warned his people, that the bloodiest portion of the war is still ahead and that it may run into 1945. But it is none the less foolish to maintain that four years of war, including the ordeal on the Eastern Front, have not taken a heavy toll of Nazi power.

Despite reports of a sugar shortage, this country continues to be served sugar-coated war news.

The Seattle bantam that hatched turkey eggs must feel by this time that she has been intrusted with some sort of a federal project.

The housewife is finding that while formerly she only saved ten points when she couldn't find a pound of butter she is now saving sixteen points.

Political enemies say the New Deal is planning a world-wide WPA after the war is over. Don't see the sense of this. Those folks across the Atlantic and Pacific can't vote in our elections.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BE BRAVE ABOUT FATHER'S INDUCTION

According to what we read in the papers, we can assume that thousands of fathers in the United States will soon be called into the armed forces. What this will mean to the emotional experience of the child will depend chiefly on the attitude revealed by the parents from now on until the father is called.

Our is not to argue about the desirability of drafting fathers. It appears now to be a certainty that they will be drafted. Many already have been called. Therefore, the sensible thing for the parents and their relatives to do is to avoid discussion of this demand by our Government, certainly in the presence of the children. As you can see, it would be harder for the child to adjust himself emotionally, if there were discussion. Accepting the inevitable, it will be easier for the child.

Be Calm Over Inevitable

Once the parents have faced reality, they need to be very frank and matter-of-fact in all their remarks about the matter. When, for example, the child of four or five asks, "Will Daddy go to war?" the answer should be, if there is the slightest possibility that he might, "Yes." To give this answer with obvious grief would inevitably disturb the child very much. So also would it disturb the older child to hear his parents or relatives speak with gloom and anxiety about "father having to go."

You and I know some very brave mothers and fathers who have been marvelous in their ways with the children up to, and when, the father left for the armed forces. Each parent mustered up courage for the sake of the other parent and the children.

But you and I would not condemn those parents who have not done this so well. Nevertheless we just hope all will try to do their best, especially for the sake of the children.

Misunderstood Wife

Some while ago a mother told me that before her husband left she resolved she would not allow herself to shed a tear at his departure. She was rather proud of her achievement until she received a letter from him from North Africa in which he said he believed she did not mind having him go, judging from the calm way she said good-bye.

Unfortunately, some wives and mothers who are really brave might be so misjudged, yet most who are really understood won't be. This reminds me of my first furlough during World War I. As my train pulled out of the station, my two children, then about five and three, waved goodbye with smiles. I must confess that I had a bit for a minute, yet upon reflection, I was very glad they acted as they did.

Let us all try to do our best to protect our children from needless worries, fears and anxieties incident to this war. My special bulletin on "Fears" may be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q If you saw your three-year-old deliberately throwing stones at a bird, dog or car, would you ask him why he did it?

A No; I would, if it be the first offense, tell him not to do so again and then spank him soundly at once if I saw him repeating it. It might be desirable to be near him for the next several days when he might be tempted to throw stones.

Q My four and a half year old daughter, who has had strong fear of the fire siren is now terrified by the air raid siren.

A Get that child a whistle she can blow herself. First get one which makes a moderate sound, later one more shrill and so on. This principle of gradual adaptation for overcoming fears is fully discussed in my special bulletin "Fears," to be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Q Do you answer letters personally and confidentially?

A Yes; several hundred of them a month. All the letters you see printed in my column have already been answered personally. I do not print any letter marked "confidential," nor do I use a name and address without permission of the writer. I even answer letters which do not enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it but for this personally pay for the privilege of writing a letter trying to help some one. It will be gracious of you to remember this and provide the postage beforehand.

AFTERWARD
What will they look to find when they return.

A different world from that they fought to save?
Was it for something new they were so brave,
Or will they look to see the hall light burn?

Ah! They will want their rooms as they were then.
When mad men rose to set the world aflame.

They'll hope to find the parlor just the same.
And if it's spring, lilacs in bloom again.

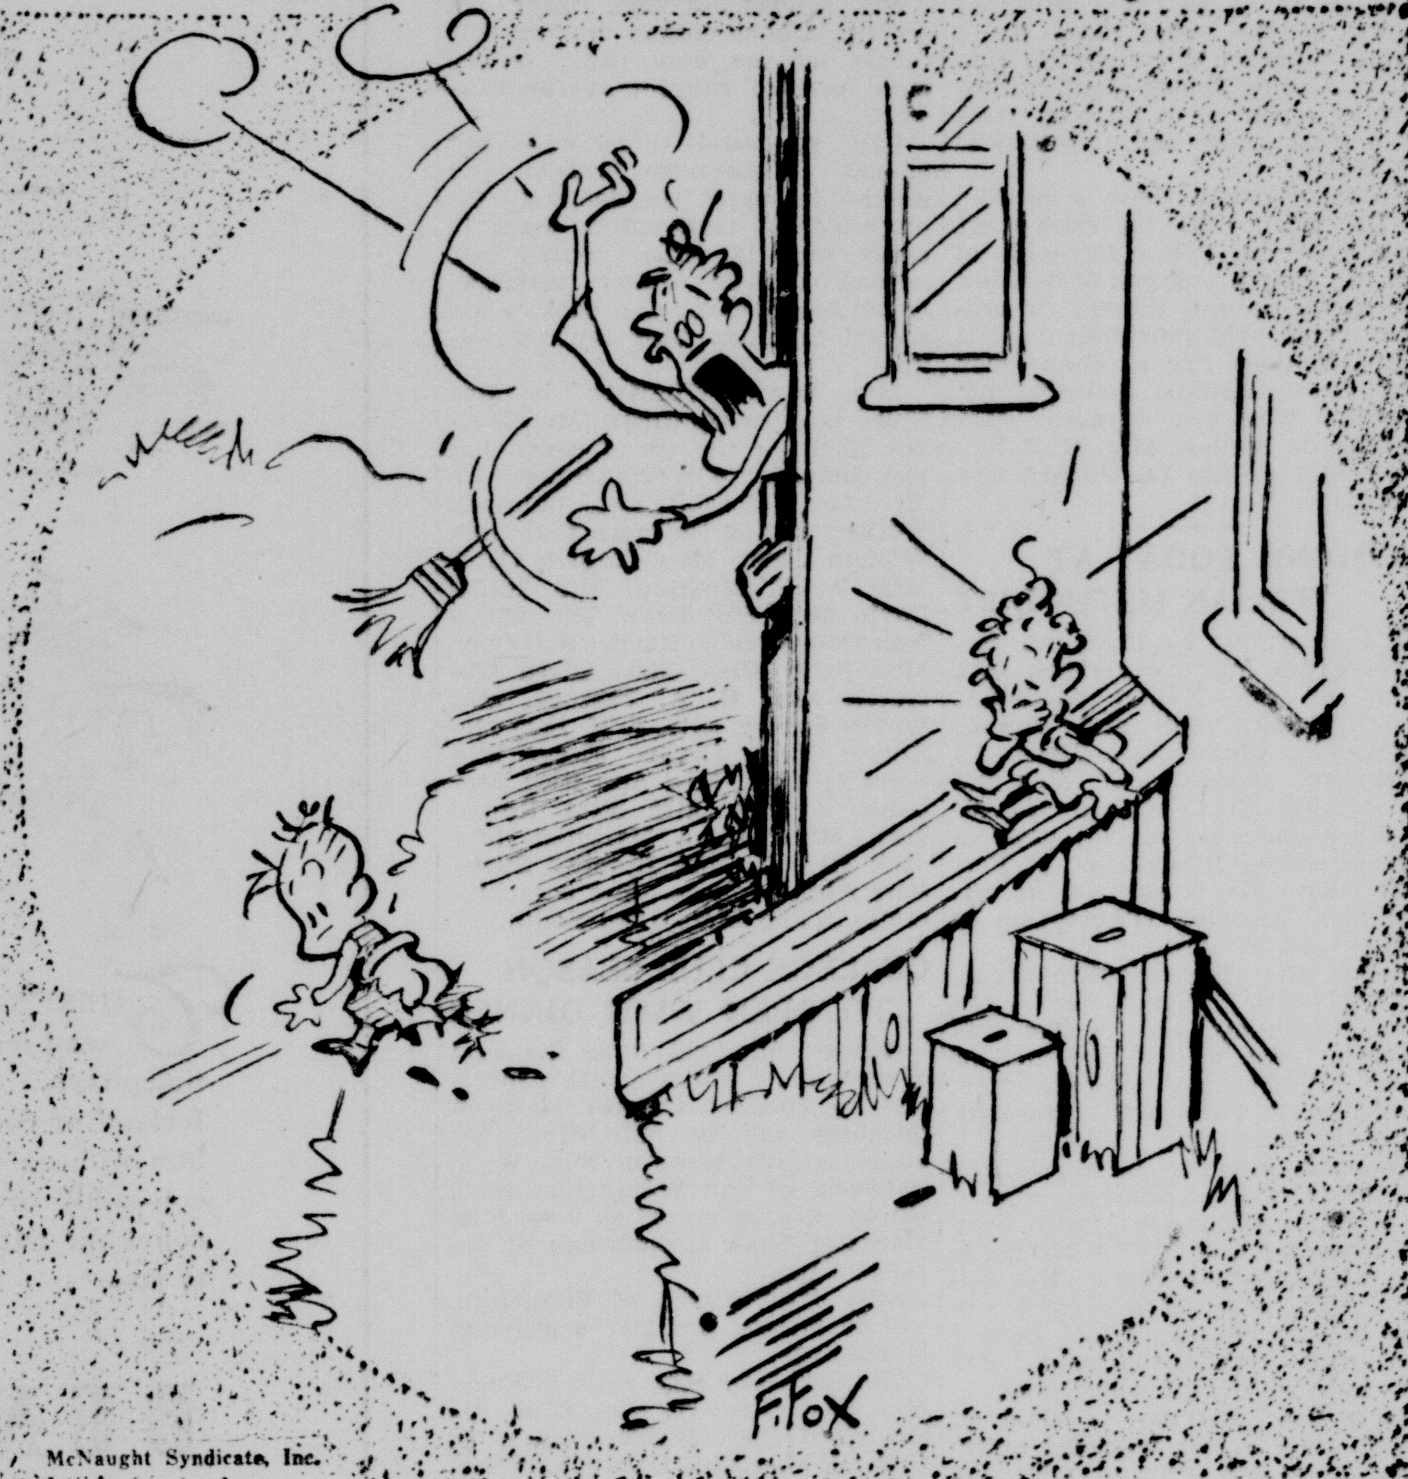

They are not fighting there for isms new.
But for our freedom and the right to peace.

And when at last the fearful cannons cease,
They'll want once more the tasks they used to do.

Sun sets tonight 6:31. Sun rises tomorrow 7:04.

It looks as if that the higher the taxes the quicker people pay them.

There is talk of an economy drive in congress. That will be really interesting.

"CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM"
"What is meant by constructive criticism?"

"As a rule," said the thoughtful citizen, "it takes the form of a set of resolutions drawn up with enthusiasm, adopted unanimously, and forgotten the next day."

We don't hear of so many gas stations being robbed lately.

Some days ago there was talk in Washington about the government starting a newspaper of it's own. Now it is denied. Some of the big boys must have been looking around and found out how hard it is to run a newspaper now.

TO THE BITTER END

As the lecturer paused after a well-rounded period, a bleary-eyed man arose and inquired:

"Shay, how long have you been lecturing?"

"About four years, my friend," was the reply.

"Well," remarked the questioner as he sat down, "I'll stick around; you must be near through."

You ought to be tolerant with dumb people. Remember if they knew as much as you know they would have the same opinions you have.

It would be nice to be a mind reader and know just what people think of you, but it might be embarrassing at times.

ROUGH-HOUSE

"Mr. Chairman," said the orator who was being severely heckled, "I must appeal on a point of order. I have been speaking now for over a quarter of an hour, but there are so many interruptions and so much ribaldry from all parts of the hall that I can scarcely hear myself speaking."

"Cheer up!" came a voice, "you're not missing much."

PREMATURE GRAY HAIR

"Although still in my thirties, I find myself becoming prematurely gray and I can't make up my mind whether to have my hair dyed."

Answer: In contrast, prematurely gray hair makes a young skin look even younger while dyed hair is likely to make even a young face look hard. As a matter of fact, most men are attracted by prematurely gray hair over a young face.

Madame Pompadour, Countess du Barry and the other rams of their time knew this when they adopted white wigs.

Perhaps your fears are ill-founded. Everyone finds a few straggling gray hairs while in the thirties and, if you are not usually followed until fifteen or twenty years later.

If your hair does turn very gray, you will preserve much of your youthful appearance by adopting properly contrasting colors. If you have black hair turning "iron gray" avoid black and white "pepper and salt" mixtures, and adopt clothes either lighter or darker than the general effect of your hair. With all shades of gray hair, purples and lavenders are generally becoming but they must be carefully chosen. Colors dark enough or dull enough will be generally becoming—especially dark navy and midnight blue, dark gray-blue, dark green, dark brown-green, dull-green. Black white and gray are usually becoming to all types.

Question: Outline, please, the procession at a double wedding. The brides are sisters.

Answer: Both of the bridegrooms follow the clergyman from the vestry where they are awaiting the brides' arrival. Each stands at the altar rail with his best man behind him, the older sister's groom standing nearer the aisle. The ushers, as usual, lead the procession—half being friends of the first; the other half friends of the second bridegroom. Next come the older sister's bridesmaids, followed by her maid-of-honor. Then comes the older sister with her father. Behind her come the bridesmaids of the younger sister, followed by her maid-of-honor and last in the procession the younger sister or uncle. Of course, if they choose, they may have only one set of attendants, in which case the younger bride would then follow directly behind her sister.

Why do so many actors insist on playing Shakespeare?

"I suspect," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes, "that it's because they can take all the credit if they succeed, and blame the public's lack of literary taste if they fail."

This era is "sophisticated," which means that dirty stories have moved from the livery stable to the bridge table.

REVIVING THEIR ATTENTION

A Chautauqua lecturer on "Travels in the Tropics" noticed that for some reason he was not holding the attention of his audience. He determined to win back their interest and so remarked parenthetically:

"It was in this locality that we encountered the worst and biggest mosquitoes I have ever seen. Many of them would weigh a pound." His audience at once braced up and thereafter paid close attention to what he said, expecting further incredible statements.

At the close of the lecture one of the local committee somewhat indignantly remarked, "I am surprised, sir, that you should permit yourself, even in a moment of levity, to make such a grossly extravagant statement."

"But it was quite true," replied the lecturer, "although I did not even attempt to estimate how many it would take to weigh a pound."

Cupid isn't doing the right thing by the nation when it lets the diabolical far ahead of the marriages.

A good example is the best sermon.

THE NEIGHBORLY SPIRIT

The neighborly spirit is an excellent thing to cultivate, although not, perhaps, as it is cultivated in the following story:

"How do you like your new home?" a friend asked a man who had recently moved into the village.

"Pretty well."

"Have you called on your neighbors yet?"

"No," the newcomer admitted, "I haven't yet. But I'm going to if any more of my wood is missing."

When the tires are thin, liable to blow at any time, how are the people to have freedom from fear?

A liar is not believed when he speaks the truth.

THE PARAMOUNT NEED

My wife needs paint, my wife needs clothes.

My boy needs shoes.

Among their needs, you may suppose.

It's hard to choose.

No man could be in a worse strait between two fires.

I guess they will have to wait—My car needs tires!

Don't get it wrong. It's freedom from want, not freedom from wanting more.

ONLY PAYERS PRAISE

"How do you think up all the ugly, sarcastic things you write about the plays you review?" asked the cub reporter.

"Oh, I just listen to the remarks made by the people who saw the show on passes," replied the dramatic critic.

We may call Hitler Schickelgruber, but we'll not use Stalin's real name. Who can pronounce Druzhshvili?

Also, a fool and his money are soon spotted.

Love is wonderful, but without other guidance it will send some awful Christmas presents to the boys over there.

When the story says powerful forces are trying to ruin some official in Washington, it means the writer is.

Duke of Windsor Is In Good Favor Again
Former King May Draw Much Better Place
New Diplomats Will Form Impressive Trio

By HELEN ESSARY

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The presence of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor at the British embassy, where they have seldom been entertained, sets inquiring minds to wondering if the former king of England has been taken back into British governmental favor. The presence of the Windsors at the embassy is a sort of official approval marking a change of attitude since their first Washington visit after the duke's abdication from the throne of England.

It may even presage the appointment of the duke, now the governor of the Bahamas, to some important British empire post. It has often been suggested that the former king and the charming Maryland woman for whom he gave up a kingship would make successful British representatives in Washington in the event of Ambassador Halifax's withdrawal.

It is a pity to waste the talents of so able and popular a pair as the duke and duchess on such a fantastically unimportant spot as Nassau.

Nassau's history is not a pretty one, you know. Once it was a pirate's hide-away. Next a stronghold in illicit slave trade. From this it graduated into a rum runner's paradise. Lately it has been skirting gentility as the haven for rich refugees who didn't enjoy paying taxes on quickly-got fortunes. It has never seemed to be that the British government has shown great dignity in exiling its former king to the Bahamas.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will remain in this country for an indefinite stay. On this trip to Washington the duke is discussing lend-lease aid for the Bahamas with United Nations officials. The duchess is preparing a pleasant home-

The World and the Mud Puddles

FIRST PERSON—SINGULAR

The fortnight stand taken by the American Legion in its convention this year, in which it insists upon this nation retaining a formidable "peace army" after the war and never again allowing itself to be caught unprepared, is one of the most encouraging signs on the horizon of America's future.

The legion, now of age, is preparing to welcome to its ranks the veterans of this war when they return from abroad and from the camps in this country. Its present membership, which will be the nucleus of a veterans' organization of tremendous power and influence in the future, can and will constitute an advisory body of sound and seasoned judgment.

In the legion's policy and in its future possibilities of greater strength rests this nation's strongest hope for an end to the senseless, impractical fumbling that has plagued so definite a part in our national government for the last ten years. The men who now make up the membership, and those who return from the wars, are not going to be overly patient when some fatuous theorist starts proposing international milk routes, visionary schemes for a life of ease and plenty without work or makes a half-baked promise to finance the whole wide world with American tax dollars.

The men who return from the wars, just as those who returned from the last one, will be sick unto death of all this international flapping about which we hear so much. Their first inclination, as a group, doubtless will lean toward isolationism. They will be completely unimpressed by the wild schemes which have been offered and which will continue to be offered by the twenty-eight-year old wonders in Washington, for our becoming the Democratic missionaries to far away lands. Instead of seeing many of these lands as the home of oppressed people who are eagerly awaiting our arrival to deliver them from the way to democracy. They are going to see them as hell holes on earth, infested with fleas and fleas and inhabited by cut-throats, and brigands who not only are indifferent to our efforts to teach them democracy, but who will resist such impertinence on our part with all their savagery and cunning.

Their views will, of course, be extreme. The Legion membership of this country, along with thousands of others, can serve to point a more moderate course. They already see the futility of trying to remain isolated from the woes and sorrows of other countries. They realize that we must accept the responsibility of trying to work out, with our allies, a system of international collaboration by which the weak may be protected from the aggressors. They realize, also, the dreamers notwithstanding, that these nations must be permitted to work out their own destinies and not sit on their heels and await Uncle Sam in the guise of Santa Claus.

By adhering to that course and keeping ourselves prepared to defend ourselves, America can become a dominant influence in world affairs and inspire the respect of all peoples. First, we must straighten out our own house. An example is the best way to teach others.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK B. KENT
(Copyright, 1943)
By The Baltimore Sun

Roses In Portland

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—IN A letter to Senator Byrd, Mr. Elmer Davis, head of the OWI, justifies sending to England a small army of lady and gentlemen orators with the statement that there is a great demand over there for American speakers to "interpret" America to the British. The London OWI officials assert that the objective of these speakers is to "stir reciprocal enthusiasm for an accelerated war effort."

The first account of the way in which Mr. Davis' "carefully chosen" orators are interpreting America and stirring reciprocal enthusiasm was given by the London correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, Mr. Thomas O'Neill, who reported the initial speech of Mayor Earl Riley of Portland, Oregon, just arrived in England, fresh from the home of OWI. Briefly, Mr. O'Neill reports the chief points made by Mr. Riley as these—that Portland is one of the three great world centers of rose culture, that nearly one-third of all American ship production comes from Portland; that everybody loves everybody else in Portland; that flashlight bulbs and batteries are more plentiful in London than in Portland.

IN ADDITION, the Mayor declared that all energies in Portland are bent upon a quick conclusion of the war of the Atlantic so that Britain and America can get on with the war against Japan. He then pointed out that Portland has a dimout; that Portland submits to rigid restrictions on clothing, food and fuel; that Portland is not host to the war workers from the South and West, and these workers have boosted the city's population by fifty per cent; that when he gets back to Portland, in December, roses will be growing right beside his porch.

THIS IS the speech which he is repeating in all parts of the British Isles on a six weeks' tour. One can imagine the enthusiasm which his inspiring words must have aroused among the British journalists to whom they were addressed. Particularly, one can imagine how they, who for four years have lived under a relentless and complete black-out, were stirred by the news of Portland's dimout. And with what emotion they heard of the noble manner in which Portland bears up under meatless days and the cruel cuffless-trouser regulation.

SERIOUSLY speaking, when it is considered that Mayor Riley, though regarded as a star, is only one of a large group of those American speakers whom the OWI is sending to England, it is not surprising that those who feel the

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You've probably all read the story of that fellow Weinberg, in New York, who posed as a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy and ran a school for draft dodgers until this FBI cracked down on him and slapped him into jail.

Well, he shouldn't be in jail at all, said his wife, but in a lunatic asylum.

He is suffering from a terrible case of megalomania, she alleges, which in plain English means imagining you are something that you ain't.

He craves publicity, she claims. He loves being in the limelight. He pictures himself as a great man, when, in reality, he is a nobody.

U. S. Liberators Bomb Jap Ships

Delayed Report Tells Of Attack Made On Eleven Jap Ships

By PAT ROBINSON

GUADALCANAL, Oct. 5.—(Delayed)—(INS)—Eleven Jap ships were slipping down the coast trying to side in the shadow of the mountains on Bougainville. They may have been trying to reinforce their strongholds at Faisi or Buin or striving to evacuate their starving companions on Kolombangara.

No matter what their mission, they were not to succeed for suddenly several large dark shapes looking like monster ravens sailing under the stars appeared above them. They were American Liberators.

The Japs must have mistaken them for their own planes for they failed to fire a shot. Then the bombs began to fall.

Whumpf, whumpf, whumpf. That was the sound of three huge bombs landing amidships on the leading Jap destroyer. They were dropped from the plane piloted by Major Leo Foster, tall, blond youngster from Sweetwater, Texas. Whumpf, whumpf, whumpf, whumpf, whumpf—Six more bombs dropped by Lt. Charley Rockwood of San Francisco. The Jap ships turned turtle and went under.

Capt. Franklin Reynolds of Los Angeles put two bombs on another destroyer which immediately caught fire. Then Rockwood dropped one on a small cargo vessel on which there was an explosion.

After that everybody in the flight went to work on a large transport, scoring several hits. By this time Jap ack ack was filling the sky and Foster's plane got a few holes in it but nobody was hurt.

The net result of the raid was: One destroyer definitely sunk; one destroyer damaged; one cargo vessel damaged; one large transport damaged. And the Japs turned tail and fled.

Hitler Is Most Merciless Killer In World History

So Declares Governor Martin In Address At Honor Roll Dedication

LITITZ, Pa., Oct. 9.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin asserted last night that the United Nations must become tough and ruthless and beat the Germans at their own game. He termed Hitler "the most merciless killer in the history of the world."

At dedication ceremonies of a service honor roll at Lititz, the chief executive said that "nearly everything used in this war by Germany has been copied from the United States, except toughness."

"Stop the German soldier, break his spirit, call his bluff and you break the German army," he asserted.

"For the time it changes our philosophy of life in America, of good will to our fellow men," he pointed out "but speed, will, power, endurance and toughness in all of us is the only way to defeat the savage and ruthless Nazi army and save our civilization."

He urged Americans to remember that the names of service honor rolls are of soldiers who made the "greatest sacrifice" and that during the war they must be given all the food, all the supplies, all the help, all the prayers, all the moral and material and spiritual effort we can give them.

"After the war their jobs must be returned to them," he added. "They must have the place in the American world to which their efforts and their loyalty entitle them. They must certainly be given every possible consideration by a grateful people and by the government."

EVANGELISTS AT PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

REV. EDWARD KEIB

Rev. Edward Keib, blind boy preacher and musician, will be at the Church of the Nazarene, Falls and Beaver streets, Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock for a Sunday school rally. He will present several songs, accordion selections, and address the school.

Dr. C. Warren Jones, general foreign missionary secretary of Kansas City, Mo., will speak this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the New Castle Zone Rally to be held in the Nazarene church. District Elder R. F. Heinlein will accompany him.

Rev. J. C. Rose To Preach Series

Each fall, for the past five years, it has been the practice of Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, to deliver a series of talks on the general theme of courtship and marriage. The sole purpose of these series has been to seek to correct certain false views gathered by young people as to the problems concerning this all important relationship in life.

In this time of delinquency on the part of both youth and adults, the series should be especially helpful. Each sermon will deal with a particular problem, some of them the most serious problems facing our nation today. This series is planned as a service to the young people of the community and to all who desire to attend.

"The Altar of Prayer" will be observed as part of each service, when, after the sermon, the lights of the church will be extinguished, save the light of the cross. With soft organ music being played, the people will offer their prayers of confession, thanksgiving and petitions.

Delegates Will Leave Tuesday

Most of the Lawrence County delegates to the 81st Convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, which will be held at Juniata College, Huntingdon, will leave on Tuesday, October 12, some by automobile and some by train. They will return from Huntingdon, Thursday afternoon October 14th, the last day of the Convention.

It is thought that practically all, if not all, of the Districts comprising the County Association will be represented at the State Convention.

SALVATION ARMY HAS SPECIAL MEETINGS

Continuing the fall "Advance" campaign, The Salvation Army is having as its Sunday speaker, Rev. A. Shaffer, pastor of the East Brook Methodist church.

During these meetings, it is the hope of The Salvation Army that a spiritual offensive may be started on the home front so that we may advance spiritually and prepare the way for the boys when they come home. These meetings are plain, old fashioned ones in which singing, reading from the Bible, personal testimonies, and a gospel message are the features. They are held every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Fire Stations To Be Depositories For Greek Relief

Clothing To Be Collected In City To Be Sent To Aid People Of Greece

Fire stations of the city have been designated by Speer Marousis, chairman of the Greek War Relief society, as depositories for old clothing which is to be collected in the next two weeks to aid the people of Greece. Councilman D. O. Davies, head of the department of safety for the city, and Fire Chief James E. Thomas are co-operating with the plan to gather old clothing.

Lawrence county is asked to give 20,000 pieces of clothing and bed clothing as a part of a national plan to gather twenty million pieces to send to Greece. Clothing is badly needed in Greece. Men and women and boys are in tatters, due to being shut off from the world by the German occupation.

The plan to gather old clothing here is endorsed by the Bundles from New Castle group, the United War Fund, the American Red Cross and the Greater New Castle Association. People are asked to give, not money, but clothing which they have discarded—shoes, underwear, bed clothing and other articles of wear.

You can help a Greek keep warm if you will stop by at your nearest fire station and leave that old clothing you don't need. Other depositories will be announced later.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

vital need of a permanent British-American alliance should be somewhat concerned. At this time to unloose upon England a flood of such "interpretive" American oratory does not seem the best way to cement friendship and promote understanding—at least, if Mayor Riley's oratory is typical of the output. On the contrary, it is possible that what really will be promoted is friction and irritation.

EXACTLY WHO conceived this bright idea has not been revealed but it is pretty certain that the British acquiesced in but did not originate it. It is, of course, natural for the British to agree to almost any suggestion made by our officials, but if, as alleged, the British information authorities really made a "demand" of this kind, then they must feel like kicking themselves pretty hard now. Undoubtedly, the intentions of those responsible for this OWI project are highly patriotic and noble—but there ought to have been some one somewhere in the organization to point out its silliness and to exercise a little judgment. After considering the speech of Mayor Riley, one is inclined to shudder at the thought that he has a dozen and more colleagues over there, exuding the same sort of stuff. The one comforting reflection is that if British-American relations can stand this they can stand practically anything.

JOHNSON BRONZE Looks to the Future

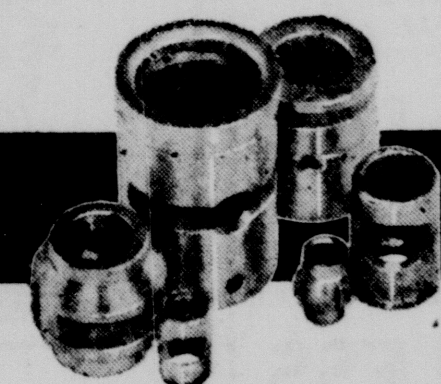

To TOKIO . . . via ALASKA

The road that "couldn't be built" has been completed . . . and in record time. Threading its way through the vaguely mapped virgin wilderness of Western Canada, it is at once a valuable military asset and for the future a permanent improvement in the transportation system of North America.

While it is no super highway at the present, trucks can average 25 miles per hour along its 1500 mile distance. There are over 200 bridges. The width is surfaced to 22 feet. The entire project was completed in seven months at a cost of $115,000,000.

Citizens of our community can feel proud of the part they played in this mighty project. Hidden away in the road building equipment . . . the tractors, bulldozers, power shovels, etc. . . were thousands of Johnson Sleeve Type Bearings . . . each one delivering a full measure of power—efficiently—economically.

Manufacturers of road building equipment have always regarded Johnson Bronze as a preferred source of supply. When peace returns, new and better highways will stretch out to the far corners of the globe. This will require new equipment . . . this will mean many thousands of bearings . . . this will provide steady employment to an increasing number of citizens of our community.

coming for her aunt, Mrs. D. Buchanan Merryman, who is returning from an illness at Faulkner hospital in Boston. The Windsors will probably return to Washington later in the fall.

On their train trip from Boston to Washington, the duke left the Pullman and walked up and down the station platform at every stop. Several people recognized him and asked for his autograph, which he gave smilingly. To one fellow traveler who introduced himself, the duke told how much he had enjoyed seeing the New York skyline again. "It's always a thrilling and beautiful spectacle," he said. The Windsors now travel without secret service guards. They occupied what is called in train jargon "a cabinette."

SUDDEN JUMP IN THOUGHT

Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and Mrs. Welles have returned to Washington from Bar Harbor, where Mrs. Welles spent most of the summer and Welles stayed for the past few weeks. They are now at Oxon Hill Manor, their Prince George county estate, for a short time. They will leave soon for Palm Beach, Fla., where they have purchased the house of Arthur Somers Roche.

Mrs. Welles, who is in excellent health despite reports to the contrary, is busy selecting furniture from the Massachusetts avenue house she inherited from her mother, Mrs. Richard Townsend, with which to furnish the Palm Beach residence. The Massachusetts avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Welles is now occupied by the Canadian WACS as an army barracks.

The newly appointed Undersecretary of State Edward Stettinius, Jr., and Mrs. Stettinius, like their predecessors, are handsome, attractive people. They have not been violently social since they came to Washington, moving about mostly in a small group of New York people here for the emergency. But wherever they have gone, they have made friends. They know how to smile and make graceful, easy conversation. I think they will do well by us at home and abroad.

Cordell Hull, Stettinius and W. Averill Harriman, our new ambassador to Russia, will make an elegant trio of good-looking, intelligent Americans when they bow to Josef Stalin. Considering the three American gentlemen architecturally, they add up to at least 19 feet of America's best. Long-legged ambassadors are always impressive, and—smooth.

Welles likewise would have done his country proud if he and Cordell Hull could have managed to stand side by side tempermentally.

RESULT OF TOUR BY SENATE PARTY

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Congressional investigations into lend-lease activities today appeared to be the most concrete result of the global tour of five senators.

The second of two executive sessions held by the senate to hear intimate details of activities in the world theaters of war produced serious charges of waste of money and mismanagement of lend-lease. Despite injunctions of secrecy, senators reported that Sen. Ralph O. Brewster (R) Maine, revealed:

Some Revelations

1. The United States is buying nickel from Canada, which was mined in the French Caledonia group of islands and sold to firms in Australia before being resold to Canada, with profits taken along the line and an export tax of 17 cents a pound being paid the French.

2. Lend-lease is committed to supplying 30,000 to 40,000 trucks for civilian use in Australia in a year while comparable United States civilian allotment is 15,000.

3. Lend-lease goods have been shipped where not wanted. One Pacific island received vaporized oil for which it had no use. Another received trucks which could not be used.

4. The United States is building oil refineries to get Iranian oil, which will come from American-owned reserves—although British refineries do not operate at capacity.

5. Despite lend-lease shipments the United States has a balance of trade of 300 million dollars against it.

Senators said they were told that the British are taking over many American facilities in North Africa, as United States troops move into Italy. The globe-trotting senators insisted that this country retain control during the war. They were said to fear hospitals and other American-owned places would be taken over by the British.

Sen. Albert B. Chandler (D) Ky., made a strong plea to make the Pacific war the major American effort, while Brewster devoted most of his time to a discussion of lend-lease and the OWI.

The five senators, it was disclosed, heard witnesses while abroad and sent back a record. The senate Truman committee already has brought about some changes in lend-lease and the OWI.

Enforced Savings Plan Believed To Have Been Killed

No Likelihood Of Congress Committee Favoring Compulsory Savings

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A week of testimony on the administration's $10,500,000,000 tax program appeared today to have killed any chance that the House Ways and Means committee will adopt compulsory savings.

Members, from Chairman Doughton (D, N. C., down, have shown a critical attitude toward the operation of enforced savings and some of them have expressed fears that it might contribute to postwar inflation when the savings were returned to the taxpayers.

If the committee should reject such a program, it will amount to a victory for Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, long-time foe of compulsory savings, who only became a lukewarm advocate as the result of pressure in inner administration circles.

Most outspoken committee member against "refundable taxes," as the savings program was finally dubbed by the administration, has been Rep. Gearhart (R) Cal. He argues that the taxpayers would have to be taxed all over again after the war to receive back their "tax refunds."

Doughton has taken the position that if the people can afford to "loan the money, they can afford to pay it in taxes," and he believes it would be unfair to individuals if a similar program were not also imposed on business.

Rep. Carlson (R) Kan., thinks there is little hope that the committee will adopt the administration's tax refund scheme.

Star Witness In Gas Coupon Fake Dies From Poison

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—(INS)—The death of Robert H. Douglas, 47, of suburban Darby, today left the government without its star witness in its attempt to smash a huge counterfeit ring which has been flooding the east with fake gasoline coupons.

Police said Douglas, 47, who had admitted distributing the counterfeit coupons, died from poison he swallowed last Monday. OPA agents who raided Douglas' home said they found fake coupons worth thousands of gallons of gasoline. He had not been arrested, however.

An OPA spokesman said Douglas had arranged to have the plates for the fake coupons made by that he had assigned Dennis Hill, 20-year-old North Philadelphia Negro, in printing them. Douglas reportedly had promised the OPA he would help them track down the case when he recovered.

Japan Reports Another Attack On Wake Island

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(INS)—A new Allied attack on Japanese-held Wake Island in the Pacific was reported by the Tokyo radio today in a broadcast heard by NBC.

The Jap announcer said the attack, the second this week, was made Friday afternoon. An assault by a United States Navy task force on Tuesday was announced officially at Pearl Harbor but American authorities made no mention of a second assault.

The Tokyo broadcast claimed that the Allied planes which attacked Wake yesterday were "repelled" after Japanese army and navy units engaged the raiders.

CARGOES ARE JUST AS SAFE AS THE MEN HAULING THEM
Motor truck operators are realists. They know full well it is long time economy to use the best equipment they can purchase. For even the best equipment occasionally goes wrong.
But the motor truck operators go farther. They know the best equipment in the hands of careless men means accidents, loss of cargo, higher insurance rates, larger damages paid out. Careful men, trained in their work, and schooled in safety practices mean equipment conserved for another day, cargoes delivered on time, damage claims avoided, husbands and fathers returned to the families at the end of their runs.
When you see a P.M.T.A. tag on a truck, you can be sure that truck is well equipped with safety devices, but more important, it is being operated by a man who has your safety in mind as well as his own. For P.M.T.A. is sold on Safety First.

New Castle High Smears Farrell's Clean Slate, 20-7

Locals Strike Back After Odd Play Nets Steelers 7-6 Lead

Statute Of Liberty Play Sets Stage For Deciding Score In Third; 'Canes Lash With Sudden And Dramatic Fury After Visitors Tally; Lewis, Williams And Newman Dig Cleats Into Pay Soil; Roussos, Lewis, Preston Play Star Roles; Andrews' Perfect Strike Results In Final Six-Pointer; Farrell Offensively Slick; 8,962 Fans See Game.

For the better part of nine minutes, an exceptionally aroused hurricane struck Taggart stadium last night and by the time the dust had settled and tranquillity reigned again, New Castle high's steel-hearted footballers had crushed to bits Farrell high's dreams of a perfect season. The final score was 20-7.

A crowd of 8,962 paid up customers saw the 'Canes lash with sudden and dramatic fury after their six-point first half margin was erased by an odd play in the opening seconds of the third. Farrell's offensively adroit eleven, undefeated, untied and unscored upon as it lined up for the kickoff, is the fourth victim spanked by the unbeaten Bridenbaughmen.

As the third quarter whistle sounded, New Castle sported a 6-0 lead gained in the closing minutes of the first. Suddenly, the tide shifted after Cheeks had kicked off to McKee. The NC back moved from his 20 to the 36. Lewis cut into the right side of the line to the 40.

Farrell Takes Lead
McKee next stepped back to pass. The Steelers ends, however, charged in and trapped the blonde 'Cane athlete as he attempted to spot his man. McKee tried to bury the oval in his arms. He was hit hard and the pigskin gushed out of his arms. Paglia, Farrell left tackle, caught the wobbly ball as he rushed toward McKee. He had about 30 yards for an easy touchdown.

More than 1,000 visiting spectators broke loose with cheers as Cheeks, with Zicker holding the ball, split the 18 and a half feet H to erase New Castle's lead, 7-6.

Undaunted by the tough break NC received the kickoff, Liebenдорfer racing to the 35. Lewis hit center by moving to the 10 on the line. On the line, the State of Liberty play, with McKee clobbering his arm as if to pass, Williams took the ball and behind precise blocking, dashed wide around left end and was flattened from behind on the Farrell 15.

Williams Goes Over
The 'Canes answered the "down the field" call from the cheering section by moving to the 10 on the line. Williams punched through center. Williams penetrated to the 7 on a fake reverse and Lewis tore loose like an angered bull, reaching the 1. Williams slipped between left tackle and guard to complete the 65-yard march.

"Billy" Andrews, a youngster you'll read more about later in this piece came in to hold on the conversion try. Mike Roussos scored a bullseye to up the 'Cane lead, 13-7. The quickness of the rally left the visitors a stunned lot as play resumed. The rivals swapped punts. McKee's boot, one of the nicest of the game, traveling down to the Steelers 16 where Zicker fell on top of him.

Preston Intercepts
Zicker wheeled back to pass in the flat but Robert Preston intercepted Andrews and dropped on the Farrell 14. Lewis' delayed back inched the ball to the 13 and a reverse, McKee to Williams, around left end, resulted in a three-yard loss.

Coach Bridenbaugh sent "Billy" Andrews into the fray for Williams. The rosy-cheeked athlete, an exceptionally good basketballer and a talented pitcher, faded way back to the 23 and cut loose with an accurate left-handed strike which Newman easily caught. The right end scampered over effortlessly. Andrews held for the conversion ceremony. Roussos' mark being perfect. Andrews' good out and received a well-deserved applause.

Ahead 20-7, New Castle started another drive in the fourth, but a pair of holding penalties cut short the spurt. Two perfect Farrell pitches, Zickler to Phillips on both occasions, carried to the New Castle 33. Another aerial, Zickler to Preston, moved 19 yards away from scoring land. After Zickler's short toss to Phillips on the 10, Zickler scathed to the three and after Owens was nailed on the 5 the game ended.

Locals Go Ahead
The Bridenbaughmen forged ahead in the waning minutes of the first following an exchange of punts. McKee and Lewis divided the ball-toting activities and reached the CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Fireball Frankie Sinkwich and his Detroit Lion mates went through Chicago today on their way to Green Bay where they will clash with the Packers tomorrow exuding confidence that they can "take" Don Hutson and company.

"We should snap back from the beating we took from the Bears last Sunday," Coach Gus Dorais said as he eyed his charges carefully.

In the crowd was Chuck Fenenbock, out of UCLA and playing his first year with the Lions. Chuck is tied with Sinkwich for the National Football League lead in ground gained—117 yards.

With Hutson doing his stuff in matchless fashion, the Packers have unraveled a control flipper in Rookie Ivy Comp. The six foot back, hurled a couple of touchdown passes against the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday and otherwise conducted himself brilliantly.

Bears Face Cards
In Chicago, the Chicago Bears and Cardinals stage their annual city game and Phil Handler, the Cards' mentor, can see only two bright spots in an otherwise dull outlook—Ronnie Cahill, leading passer and thrower of the loop, and Quarterback Andy Pupils.

Ronnie, a freshman, has hit the target with 19 of his aerials this year for an aggregate of 211 yards. The Brooklyn Dodgers invade Washington to open the regular season for the Redskins. The Indians have appeared in two games, both non-league engagements. In one they were beaten by the College All Stars and they whipped the Cards at Buffalo, N. Y., in an exhibition.

The New York Giants opened their season in the Phil-Pitts tonight at Philadelphia. The Giants will be powerful with Tuffy Leman, who opened the season as a backfield center, back in playing harness and Center Mel Hein returned from retirement. John "Bull" Karcis also joined the Giants this week. He is a 225-pound line-smashing fullback.

Columbus Snares Tiny World Series

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 9.—(INS)—The Columbus Red Birds today became the first minor league club in history to win the little world series three consecutive years, as they defeated the Syracuse Chiefs 4 to 2, to take the fifth game of the classic before 6006 fans.

Elwin "Preacher" Roe, star Bird southpaw, held the visiting Syracuse aggregation, to only five hits. It was the third junior series in a row for the Red Birds.

L.S.U. Will Battle Texas A.&M. Tonight

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 9.—(INS)—Sparked by fleet-footed Steve Van Buren, 200-pound sprinter-tailback, Louisiana State university's football team clashes with Homer Norton's Texas A. & M. Aggies in Baton Rouge tonight. Van Buren has carried the ball 44 of the 100 times L. S. U. has elected to run, and has amassed a total of 257 yards—a 5.9 average.

SLIP COSTLY
Jeannie Wilson, pretty Chicago swimmer, lost a chance for an A. A. U. title this year when she slipped off a springboard and fell on a concrete platform. She lost several teeth and injured an arm.

REAL VET
George Kell, star third baseman of the Lancaster club, is a veteran of four seasons, but he is only 20 now.

SPORTS RAMBLINGS

Quite a few local servicemen, no doubt, formed part of the 267,241 spectators huddled around Yankee stadium for the first three series games. "Chuck" Fazzone, ex-Milton A. "Despite the fact that these major leaguers," Fazzone states, "play day in and day out, they surprisingly seemed to get that nervous tension. I watched closely the players' reactions and noted that they appeared a bit jumpy. This, perhaps causing costly errors." Bessemer High Eleven Defeats Union High, 43-0, In County Class B Fray

Miller Sparks Attack With Four Touchdowns; Union Gridders Stifled Throughout

BESSEMER, Oct. 9.—Displaying too much all around class, Bessemer high, 1942 County Class B champion, moved closer to the title by routing Union township high, 43-0, Friday afternoon at Bessemer.

The red and black color bearers struck the first time they took possession at the outset of the first when Union kicked after being unable to get anywhere. Johnson chalked up 15 on a reverse around right end from the 50. Miller added 20 more and Gatto bulled to the 10. Miller dashed across.

Miller Over Again
Union again was unsuccessful offensively and Blisley toed to Miller who returned to the Union 40. Gatto moved all the way to the 25 and Miller scampered over on a sweep around end. That ended the first period scoring.

The inexperienced Unionites took over but again found the sledding too rough and Blisley punted to Miller who was flattened on his 30. Gatto and Miller collaborated in line smashes to move to the 20. Miller then hit center and reached the 5. He crossed the "g. l." on the following play to up the lead 18-0. Anderson failed to convert.

Bessemer added its fourth touchdown in the third on a drive which started on the 20. With Miller and Gatto dividing the ball lugging and blocking, Bessemer penetrated to the Union 45. Miller then passed to Johnson on the 25 and Miller and Commesso punched to the 5. Miller tallied after Commesso dug to the one. Miller was unsuccessful in converting.

Score Three Times
Three more touchdowns were marked on the scoreboards in the fourth, the first coming as a result of a Union fumble recovered on the Scotland Laners' 25 by Johnson. Commesso soared across on the first play of the closing chapter. Novad converted to give the host club a 31-0 lead.

Miller's pass to Anderson, netted 35 yards and the sixth score. Near the close of the game Union recovered to the air, hoping to score and the strategy resulted in the seventh Bessemer six pointer. Micco's aerial was batted in the air by Flick. Kresovich snatched the oval and rumbled 50 yards to end the scoring.

Offensively, Miller was the class of the show. The left half, wearing number 50, ripped off substantial gains repeatedly and marked up four touchdowns. Center Kresovich was a giant defensively for the defending champions. Foreman and Blisley starred for Union.

Bessemer can add another title to its long list by defeating Shenango township on October 29.

The lineup:

Pitching Gives Yankees Edge

Cards Prove They Can't Hit Any Kind Of Pitching, Yanks Can

By GARRY SCHUMACHER
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Any opinion based on what transpired at the Yankee Stadium during the past three days must put this series under the control of the pitchers, and that being so, the Yankees must now be accorded a pronounced edge.

Not only because of the mathematics of the situation, the two games-to-one lead they have taken, but more emphatically because they have already beaten down the Cardinals' strongest pre-series argument—that they, the Cardinals, could hit any kind of pitching.

Hitting So So
The stadium games proved that to me a fallacy. The Cards have hit here and there, including the home runs of Marion and Sanders in the second game, but at no time have they exploded against the Yankee pitchers, punished them severely.

Chandler, Bonham, Borowy, all of them restricted the Cardinal fire, so confined the scoring that, none of the games got beyond the reach of a Yankee rally. The New Yorkers twice drove down from behind, and when they missed on Wednesday they made it close enough in the ninth to thoroughly scare the Cardinals.

Off the actual base-hit figures, and from observation too, the Cardinal pitchers have all but matched the Yankee performance, but there is one, and a very distinct difference. The Yankee pitchers did it with stiff, strong-armed throwing, whereas the Cardinals, except for Cooper, did it with style.

Yanks' Stuff Pitching
So far the distinction between the two hasn't meant much, but it should be much more clearly drawn in the games at St. Louis, stuff pitching is the solid kind, and there is no reason to think that Chandler and Borowy, having beaten down the Cardinal bats, swingers once, can't do it again.

With the stylists it could be different. Lanier's single advantage is his left-handedness, and Beale was and is strictly a one-game try for the money.

True, the Cardinal fielders deserted Brazle utterly, and errors beat him, but before all the misuses Lindell cracked one, solidly, and Johnson's game-winning triple was as emphatic a blow as the series has produced.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

There'll be a lot of folk who like the outdoors and also a lot of beagles who like to hunt at the AKC sanctioned fall field trials of the Shenango Valley Beagle club's grounds, two miles from the city line on the Highland Heights road, Sunday. Owners and entries from all sections of Western Pennsylvania are anticipated. Keen competition is expected. The drawing of braces will begin at 8 a. m. and the bounds will go to work a short time later. The judges will be W. J. Dawson, Beaver Valley club, and Walter Alexander of Sharpsville. The beagle contests will be divided into two classes, one for all-age dogs, 13 inches and under, and one for all-age dogs, 15 inches or less. There'll be prizes and ribbons for the first four hounds which place in each class, showing the best bound style in action.

AGE PAYS
The York club of the Interstate league is looking for more old pitchers. Lefty George, 57, made the league's all star team, and Dutch Schesler, 43, pitched a three-hit shutout.

The physically handicapped increase by 1,000,000 persons each year.

QUITE YOUNG
Shortstop Dick Lajcski and outfielder Whitey Lockman of Jersey City are 17-year-olds.

WORLD SERIES RIVALS PLAY FOURTH SKIRMISH IN ST. LOUIS SUNDAY

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9.—

Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals is determined to rise or fall with the ball players who have fought a losing battle against the New York Yankees in the world series so far.

He remained confident that the Cards would come through, as the clubs worked out today at Sportsman's Park.

I'm pitching Max Lanier Sunday," Southworth said. "And Whitey Kurowski will be back at third base, along with all other players in the same positions they've been playing."

Kurowski has recovered from being torn loose from his moorings by Johnny Lindell in that eighth inning Thursday.

Tactful Pronouncement
Southworth's statement amounted to a tactful pronouncement that the team which won the National League pennant for him still is good enough as far as he is concerned to win the series, although at the moment the Yankees are in front by two games to one.

Not only that, the Yankees whipped Lanier, a southpaw, in the first game of the series. Lanier, the manager Joe McCarthy, capably laying back behind a cinder block, said he probably would start Marius Russo, the left-hander who came on toward the close of the season with a couple of great victories after having gone through a tough losing streak.

If he pitches Russo Sunday and then Spud Chandler, the American League's outstanding pitcher, on Monday it means he will have to shuffle for a pitcher in the seventh game—if the series goes that far—as Chandler might not be able to come back so soon after a Monday start.

Must Save Cooper
If he pitches Russo Sunday and then Spud Chandler, the American League's outstanding pitcher, on Monday it means he will have to shuffle for a pitcher in the seventh game—if the series goes that far—as Chandler might not be able to come back so soon after a Monday start.

Southworth is committed to holding big Mort Cooper for the Monday tussle regardless of which Yankee hurler is on the mound.

The Cardinal manager thinks at the moment that his team will pull out of this thing yet, like a drowning man who clutched at a straw and found it to be a life raft.

Others remember that the Cardinals started the series in New York with a keen relish for the comparatively short foul lines, eager to out-slug the Yankees. That's all they had on their mind and about all they talked about or tried to do in the first three games.

Then when Marty Marion hit that homer in the second game—his second homer all year—they were convinced that they could pound the fences and they were determined to try it. Back here at home they will try. Southworth expects, or hopes, to win the ball game and forget about the distance hitting.

They played themselves into prohibitive odds in New York and by this time and better either play the game that won them the National League pennant or let the whole thing go by default. The Cards haven't looked too good. The betting odds of 2 to 5 against their winning the series is indicative of something, mainly that they will be at themselves even if the Yankees don't do it.

DENVER SUFFERS FIRST LOSS, 41-0

DENVER, Oct. 9.—(INS)—The Denver university Pioneers fell from the undefeated ranks today following an overwhelming defeat handed them by the Colorado college Tigers last night in Denver's Hilltop stadium.

The Naval-Marine Tigers trounced the all-civilian Pioneers, 41 to 0.

Southern California Is Heavily Favored

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—(INS)—The powerful Trojans from Southern California, seeking their third straight football fielding of the season, took the field in Memorial Coliseum today 2 to 1 favorites over the Air Devils from St. Mary's Pre-Flight.

A crowd of 35,000 was expected.

STUMPED AGAIN

BOSTON—Trailing Cunder Hagg, the Swedish comet, in so many races wasn't the most trying thing. Gilbert Dadds, Boston's bespectacled miller, found in his tour with the smooth-running Svenska.

"Gunder" is a nice guy," Dadds told his track coach, veteran Jack Ryder of Boston college. "But try traveling some time with a fellow who can't speak much English, and who talks Swedish, or some other foreign language, all the time with two companions."

"It gets on a guy's nerves, after a while."

COEN ISSUES FEW 'DONT'S' TO MOTORISTS

In view of the fact that local fields and forests are extremely dry, due to lack of rain, District Game Protector Frank L. Coen today issued a few don'ts to motorists who, occasionally, toss out a match, a lighted cigarette or cigar out of the windows of their cars.

Coen said: "There is a very great danger of fire right now. These are often started by motorists carelessly tossing a match, cigarette or cigar out of the window of their car. Some of the young couples who park on the highways and byways also toss out their cigarette butts."

"A fire now could destroy much wild life, dry standing corn which is gold now, not even to mention valuable timber."

"Let's not burn any brush until after we had one good rain, as these fires often get out of control."

Byrd-McSpaden In Title Match

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Slammin' Sammy Byrd and Harold "Jug" McSpaden tied of today at Tarkenton golf course for a 36-hole week-end match billed as "the world championship." The winner will draw $1,000 in prize money.

Byrd won the Chicago Victory National open, and the debonair McSpaden captured the Tam O'Shanter All-American this summer.

They play 18 holes today and another 18 tomorrow.

PLANTING RYE

Charlie Bernhart, New Liberty street, retired B. & O. railroad engineer, is planting some rye in his garden, intending to turn it over in the spring as a fertilizer. With the continued dry weather, the soil was somewhat dry and dusty digging, and he hopes we will soon have some rain to give his seed a start. Peggy, his faithful dog, is his constant attendant in his labors.

ON THE AIR SUNDAY

An outdoor movie theater operated by the army in New Guinea shows current films within a month of their general release in this country.

BASEBALL BOOM

Interest in Negro baseball is booming. More than 50,000 saw this year's East-West game and 10,000 were turned away from Chicago's Comiskey park. The first game in 1933 drew 8,000. The 11 to date have drawn a total 350,000, averaging nearly 32,000.

BOY SLIGHTLY BURNED

Russell Umstead, aged 6 years, of R. F. D. No. 2, Volant, suffered first degree burns of the back, when he jumped into a pan containing hot water at his home last evening. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:45 p.m.

Changes In Trading Prices During Morning Are Only Fractional

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Stocks held steady today as the celebration of the Jewish holy day, Yom Kippur, restricted trading. A few pivots made a stab at recovery, but gains in such cases were only small fractions.

Sales ran at one of the slowest Saturday rates of the year.

Rails made the best show. Atchafson was up a point at one time while N. Y. Central and Northern Pacific inched forward fractionally.

Steels held steady as did amusements, utilities and rubbers. Oils here firmed.

Air transports eased. Dow Chemical gained a point despite a lower earnings report.

The rest of the list was within fractions of last night's close.

Bonds were steady in dull trading. The curb market also was dull as stocks inched forward slightly.

Monaca Loses

Ellwood High Swamps Monaca High 46-0 On Friday Night

VISITORS UNABLE TO STOP ATTACK

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9.—Scoring almost at will, the Croft-Gills Ellwood high football team ran roughshod Friday night under the lights at Lincoln stadium over a visiting Monaca high team. The final score was 46 to 0 for Ellwood. A crowd of some 2,500 spectators attended the game, which never once saw the visitors in a scoring position.

The game was only started when Ellwood made their first touchdown following the opening kickoff. Tilla, holder and Agostinelli carried the ball downfield and Agostinelli went over from the line when he snared a lateral from Desport. Tilla passed to Presto for the extra point.

For the next touchdown Ellwood marched from their own 30. Big gains in the drive were 30 yards on a lateral from Desport to Tilla, and a pass from Desport to Presto for 19 more. Tilla took the ball through left tackle to score from 10 and added the extra point by a line-buck.

Ellwood scored twice again in the second period. The first one started on the Monaca 43. A pass from Tilla to Manauzzi was good for 16. Another yardage being picked up through the line, and Tilla carried the ball over from the nine, receiving the ball on a lateral from Desport. The placement try for the extra point was good.

Another pass from Desport to Manauzzi, good for 22 yards, scored the game's fourth touchdown following a drive from the Monaca 37. Ellwood was ahead 26 to 0 at half time.

Three times again Ellwood scored in the third quarter. The first followed when Tilla intercepted a Monaca pass on the visitors' 36, and then on the next play went around right end for 18 yards. Holler gained more through the line and Agostinelli went through left tackle to score from the four. Agostinelli added the extra point by placement.

The Ellwood reserves played a part of the second quarter and after the first touchdown in the second half went into the game and with other subs remained until the contest was over.

The next tally was scored by McClintock, who went over from the three after gains by Manauzzi and Morrison.

Minutes later the game's final touchdown came from a march from the Monaca 47. A lateral from Morrison to McClintock was good for seven. Manauzzi added 27 more from the same play, and then took the ball over after a pass from McClintock. Manauzzi added the extra point by hitting the line.

A check-up of statistics shows that Ellwood had 17 first downs to two for the visitors. Ellwood completed six passes for 86 yards, while Monaca failed to make one. Ellwood lost 36 yards through penalties to none by the visitors.

Desport's accurate laterals and passes highlighted the game. At half time Sgt. Kay Vincenz, of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, made a plea for enlistees over the public address system.

Much enthusiasm was shown over the band, directed by Barnes Weinstein, and at half time they performed a number of intricate drills with skill.

Food Shortage Naples' Problem

Military Governor Says That Food Shipments Are Awaited

SYSTEM TO GIVE OUT BREAD READY

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, Oct. 4.—(Delayed)—The food shortage is the most serious problem in Naples today. But, according to an American Army colonel serving as military governor, food shipments are expected to arrive shortly to forestall starvation among the populace.

"Naples isn't starving, but it would be in 48 hours if food were not coming," said Col. Edgar E. Hume, of Frankfurt, Ky.

Generally speaking, things are going "pretty smoothly," considering the damage caused by the Germans, Col. Hume said. He disclosed that temporary arrangements have been made to provide bread and water while army engineers are working to repair the city's water works and restore electric power, which will bring the city back to normal in a large degree.

Efforts are being made, he said, to re-establish a normal flow of flour from Puglia and Calabria provinces, which always have been "bread baskets" for Naples.

Bread System
Col. Hume said he will use the same system for giving out bread as he used in Serbia from 1919 to 1921 when he was governor there. He will give the food to a commissioner who, in turn, will sell to the bakers. It then will be sold through shops on a ration card basis.

"The role will be handled in this way," he said. "We will be able to give out money through regular Italian channels to people where we absolutely have to do it."

Col. Hume added:
"There will be a day of reckoning, though we are giving out only as much as is necessary."

Col. Hume was leader of the American relief expedition after the Italian earthquake of 1915 and director of American hospitals in Italy during the World War.

He said he was impressed with the fervor of the welcome he received at Naples.

"Coming into town I found these people the most enthusiastic folks I've ever seen," Hume said. "I went into Trieste in 1918 and that was nothing to compare with this—people here were weeping, praying, shouting and laughing."

"I've never seen such a demonstration in my life," he said.
"Fortunately, we were able to stop the Germans before they blew up the last of the reservoirs and thus we saved a bare sufficiency of water."

Col. Hume said the Italians are working well. The Allied military government representatives and arrangements are under way to establish the court system with Italian judges.

The time required to build B-24 Liberators has been reduced from an average of 100,000 to 30,000 man hours.

Believe Germany Plans To Launch Peace Offensive

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Diplomatic Washington believes today that Germany is about to launch a powerful peace offensive.

The Nazi peace move is expected to coincide with the Moscow conference of American, British and Soviet foreign ministers this month. Diplomatic opinion in Washington is convinced Germany will do its utmost to prevent the United States and Great Britain from reaching a satisfactory understanding with the Soviet Union at the Moscow meeting.

It is believed the German peace offensive will be aimed at trying to take immediate advantage of any serious differences of opinion which may arise between the Anglo-American representatives and the Soviets at the conference.

If anything approaching a deadlock should develop in the allied talks in Moscow, it is thought the Germans will step in instantly with a peace overture to Russia through Japanese diplomatic channels.

The possibility is seen that the German high command might offer to replace Adolf Hitler's Nazi regime with a military government and give Russia a free hand in eastern Europe and the Balkans in return for a separate peace.

CLARK EMPLOYEES VOTE TO RETURN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—(CNS)—Wage negotiations at the D. L. Clark Candy company in Pittsburgh were resumed today after employees, who walked out in the nation's first strike authorized under the escape clause of the Smith-Connally law, voted to return to work.

Ending of the strike followed appeals by Samuel Wehofer, president of the Pittsburgh local of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, and James Cross, international president.

The WLB had labeled the walk-out a violation of labor's no-strike pledge and charged it had seriously interfered with the production of food products for the armed forces.

TURNIPS

Turnips are fine vegetables if they are eaten tops and all. They provide about one-third as much nourishment as potatoes do. The tops have vitamins galore.

Turnips may be cooked in many different ways. Mashed turnips with butter or gravy are good. Yum, Yum.

They taste good and give a person a change from spuds all the time. They are pretty bulky too, and help to fill the aching void under the belt.

They contain some minerals too. Their copper and iron and calcium help the good work a long.

Turnips from victory gardens taste especially good. Those backaches and stiff knees are all forgotten when you get busy on a big plate of your own turnips.
